From Your Associational Missionary

Well, here we are already a few days into 2012. Most churches are praying that 2012 will be better, financially at least, than 2011. We face the New Year with a sense of excitement. We are waiting to see what God is going to do. I can truthfully say that God always amazes me. He always does far more than my feeble mind can imagine and sometimes He surprises me with an outcome that I don't expect. What we do know, even in uncertain times, is that God is still in control and as difficult as it may be we need to let him be in control.

I want to express my gratitude to the pastors and churches of the Floyd County Baptist Association for your support, through giving, volunteering, and words of encouragement. I look forward to what God is going to do as we work together to build His kingdom.

I am grateful that God has allowed me to be a part of this association. I pray that all of you have a blessed New Year.

Jim

Thoughts From the Ministry Center

The truth be told, I am a nut about football. I love college football and I love professional football. I do have a favorite college team, but right now that will remain my secret. Let's just say I'll ROLL with it. I have followed the careers of many players from college through the pros. Yes, I did watch Tim Tebow but I was not one of those rabid fans. I have not changed my mind. I like Tim Tebow and I think he is a good quarterback. That's the football part. What I do admire is his stand for Jesus Christ. What I see when he talks about Jesus is a true relationship with the Savior. Not something that is fake or good for the moment. It is a genuine love for the King of Kings. He is not in your face with it. He is not hateful with it. He is genuine. He knows what he believes and stands by it. How about you? Do you know what you believe? Do you know why you believe? And even more important, do you believe? If you profess to believe, do you show it in your thoughts and actions? What a different world we would live in if everybody who claims to have Jesus as Lord of their life, lived like He was. That's the challenge to you today. You don't have to be a Tim Tebow to take a stand. I think Tim would take the stand for Christ no matter what he did for a living. Go ahead...take a stand for Jesus. I dare you!

Brenda Gail
